II.3.- Provisions common to the granting of proxy by means of remote communication.

The shareholder who grants proxy by means of remote communication should notify the designated representative of the proxy granted, who in turn should record his or her acceptance. Therefore, the agent shall be deemed to have accepted his/her proxy: (i) by attending the General Shareholders Meeting electronically, in accordance with the terms set forth in the section "Electronic attendance at the General Shareholders Meeting" of this notice; or (ii) by physically attending on the day and at the place of the General Shareholders Meeting, for which purpose the duly authorised agents must identify themselves by their National Identity Document or passport, and deliver the printed copy of the delegation made by postal or electronic means, duly signed by the agent and represented shareholder.

If proxy is granted to the Chairman of the Meeting, of the Board or to any other member of the Board of Directors, including the Secretary, this communication shall be understood to have been made by the Company's receipt of the proxy granted.

Where the represented shareholder has issued instructions, the proxy will cast the vote in accordance with them and will be obliged to keep these instructions for one year from the date of the corresponding General Shareholders Meeting.

The proxy may also include those points that have not yet been provided for in the Agenda for the call but may be addressed at the Meeting, as permitted by Law.

The proxy may only exercise the vote of his/her principal by attending the General Meeting in person, either electronically in accordance with the terms set out in the section "Electronic attendance at the General Shareholders Meeting" of this notice, or by attending the General Meeting in person at the scheduled venue.

A proxy may have the representation of more than one shareholder without restriction with regard to the number of shareholders represented. When a proxy represents several shareholders he or she may vote differently depending on the instructions received from each shareholder.

II.4.- Conflicts of interest.

Pursuant to Articles 523 and 526 of the Corporate Enterprises Act, the Chairman of the Board of Directors and other members of the Board of Directors are in a conflict of interest in relation to: (i) item 1.2 of the Agenda concerning the corporate management of the Board; (ii) item 3 of the Agenda regarding the remuneration of directors, and (iii) the issues included in sections b) or c) of article 526.1 of the Spanish Corporate Enterprises Act (dismissal, separation or termination of administrators and the exercise of corporate responsibility action) that could be presented outside the Agenda in accordance with the Law. The director whose re-election is proposed under item 2.1 of the Agenda likewise has a conflict of interest. With regard to all of these, if the represented party has not given precise voting instructions, the proxy shall be deemed to have been granted to the Secretary of the General Shareholders Meeting, unless expressly stated otherwise.

III.- Common rules.

III.1.- Deadline for the exercise of proxy and voting by means of remote communication.

Proxies granted and votes cast by remote means of communication prior to the General Meeting, both by postal correspondence and electronic communication, may be cast as from the day of publication of the notice of call and must be received by the Company no later than twenty-four (24) hours on the day immediately preceding the day on which the General Meeting is scheduled to be held on first call, i.e. no later than 5:30 p.m. on 13 June 2022.

Any proxies and votes received later will be considered as not granted and as not cast, respectively. In this regard, once the stipulated deadline has elapsed, only proxies granted in writing via the attendance card and presented at the shareholders' registration desks at the place and on the day of the General Shareholders Meeting shall be valid.

III.2.- Rules of preference with regard to attendance, voting and proxy by means of remote communication.

III.2.1. Priority of personal attendance.

The personal attendance of the shareholder at the General Meeting, either physically or electronically, shall have the effect of revoking the proxy granted and the vote cast by remote means of communication.

A proxy may always be revoked. In any case, the personal attendance of the represented shareholder at the General Meeting, either physically or electronically, shall have the effect of revoking the granted proxy.

III.2.2. Priority of remote voting over the remote granting of proxy.

A vote cast through any remote means of communication will render ineffective the granting of electronic proxy or by means of a card printed on paper, either beforehand, in which case it will be considered revoked, or afterwards, in which case it will be considered not to have been cast.

III.2.3. Priority in the event of granting several proxies or casting several votes by remote means of communication.

In the event that a shareholder validly grants several proxies or validly casts several votes through different remote means of communication, the proxy and/or vote that was received last will prevail, and those received previously will be invalidated

III.3. Co-ownership

In the case of co-ownership of shares, for the purposes of article 126 of the Spanish Corporate Enterprises Act, it will be presumed that the co-owner who votes or grants proxy by remote means of communication is designated by the rest of the co-owners to exercise the rights derived from the shares.

IV.- Technical incidents.

The Company reserves the right to modify, suspend, cancel or restrict the remote mechanisms for proxy or voting electronically when technical or security issues require it.

The Company shall not be responsible for any damages that the shareholder may suffer as a result of breakdowns, overloads, line breaks, connection failures, mail malfunction, or any other eventuality of the same or a similar nature, beyond the will of the Company, which prevent the use of voting and proxy mechanisms through remote communication.

In the event that the shareholder or the proxy wishes his or her speech to appear literally in the minutes of the meeting, he or she should expressly state this in the aforementioned speech form, attaching, where appropriate, the text of the aforementioned speech.

With regard to the proposed resolutions on those matters that, in accordance with the Law, do not appear on the Agenda, those attending remotely and who have previously registered may cast their votes from the moment when the Secretary of the General Shareholders Meeting reads these proposals and voting is activated on the electronic attendance platform on the corporate website.

In any case, the voting by electronic means regarding all the proposals submitted to the General Shareholders Meeting will end when the Chairman declares the end of the voting period for the proposed resolutions.

IV.- Leaving the meeting.

Shareholders and proxies attending by electronic means who wish to express their desire to leave the Meeting should do so by sending a communication through the link enabled in the electronic attendance computer platform on the Company's website. Once the wish to leave the meeting has been communicated, all subsequent actions undertaken will be deemed not to have been performed.

V.- Other issues.

The Company reserves the right to adopt the proper mechanisms with regard to electronic attendance at the General Shareholders Meeting when this is required for technical or security reasons. The Company shall not be responsible for any damages that the shareholder may suffer as a result of breakdowns, overloads, line breaks, connection failures, mail malfunction, or any other eventuality of the same or a similar nature, beyond the will of the Company, which prevent the use of mechanism for electronic attendance at the Meeting or the occasional lack of availability of its website, without prejudice to the adoption of the measures that each situation requires, including the possible temporary suspension or extension of the Ordinary General Shareholders Meeting where this is necessary to guarantee the full exercise of their rights by the shareholders or their proxies.

Electronic attendance of the shareholder or the proxy will be equivalent to attendance in person at the Ordinary General Shareholders Meeting.

The remote attendance of the shareholder will invalidate any vote issued or proxy granted previously by any other procedure established by the Company.
